The President's column

It is a true honour and a great pleasure to serve as President of the FAI Ballooning Commission (CIA). Being part of this passionate and forward-looking community, and witnessing the dedication of so many people around the world who work tirelessly to develop and promote our sport, is deeply inspiring.

Over the past few years, the CIA's Public and Media Relations (PMR) Subcommittee has made remarkable progress in enhancing the visibility of our sport and its major events. Through regular updates on social media and in-depth articles on the FAI website, our community and the wider public are now able to follow ballooning more closely than ever before. The plenary's decision to invest in this initiative has clearly paid off – it has created real momentum and a wealth of engaging content that showcases the beauty, precision, and spirit of our sport. My sincere thanks go to everyone in the PMR Subcommittee for their dedication, creativity, and commitment to bringing ballooning to a broader audience.

Over the past few years, the CIA's Public and Media Relations (PMR) Subcommittee has made remarkable progress in enhancing the visibility of our sport and its major events. Through regular updates on social media and in-depth articles on the FAI website, our community and the wider public are now able to follow ballooning more closely than ever before. The plenary's decision to invest in this initiative has clearly paid off – it has created real momentum and a wealth of engaging content that showcases the beauty, precision, and spirit of our sport. My sincere thanks go to everyone in the PMR Subcommittee for their dedication, creativity, and commitment to bringing ballooning to a broader audience.

The success of Gordon Bennett TV has served as an inspiring model for this evolution. Today, it is hard to imagine a Coupe Aéronautique Gordon Bennett without the GBTV team. Their pre-event features, live coverage, interviews from the basket, and daily recap shows have become an integral part of the event experience. They not only capture the excitement of the competition but also highlight the teamwork, endurance, and human stories behind each flight.

As we look ahead, it is essential to continue building on this success. Expanding the coverage of our hot air ballooning events remains a priority, and the CIA will continue to give its full support to PMR. We also look forward to aligning our communication efforts even more closely with the broader FAI media strategy, ensuring that ballooning has its well-deserved place within the global air sports community.

Another encouraging development is the growing international interest in our sport. Chile has recently joined our community, marking an exciting new chapter for ballooning in South America. Saudi Arabia and India have both declared their intention to host future World Championships – Saudi Arabia demonstrating remarkable enthusiasm with already submitted bids, and India, a long-standing member of the CIA family, renewing its commitment to bringing a Worlds to its skies. Each of these countries holds tremendous potential, and we are eager to see balloons filling their skies in the years to come. The CIA's Events Development Service (EDS) and our wider community stand ready to provide support, guidance, and partnership in building these new opportunities.

At the same time, discussions on the World Ranking List and the CAT1/CAT2 event schemes have been initiated at the last plenary. Over the past two years, we have witnessed a remarkable rise in the number of organizers hosting CAT2 events – a clear sign of growing engagement worldwide. Today, around 100 events already use our WatchMeFly-platform for competition management and scoring. With the new concepts under development, we see significant potential to increase the number of CIA-sanctioned events even further, providing more opportunities for pilots and nations to participate in our sport at every level. The future looks bright, and I look forward to shaping it together with all of you – because it is our community that truly makes ballooning so strong.

Finally, I would like to extend a warm thank you to Saudi Arabia for hosting our next CIA Plenary Meeting in February 2026. This will be a wonderful occasion for all of us to experience the hospitality and enthusiasm of this new and dynamic member of our ballooning family. I warmly invite all delegates and friends of ballooning to join us in for what promises to be a memorable and inspiring meeting.

Together, through collaboration, innovation, and shared passion, we continue to elevate the sport of ballooning – both in the air and in the eyes of the world.

Claude WEBER

CIA Plenary Meeting 2026

February 4-7 2026 in AlUla, Saudi Arabia

The CIA Bureau is pleased to announce that the CIA Plenary Meeting 2026 will be hosted in AlUla, Saudi Arabia, instead of Riyadh as initially planned. The decision to change the venue was taken by the Bureau on 21 October 2025, following a presentation of the revised bid by the Saudi Ballooning Federation.

Due to institutional and partnership considerations, the host had to relocate the event to AlUla, a destination of outstanding natural beauty and cultural significance, which is also proposed to host the FAI Women's World Hot Air Balloon Championship 2027 and the FAI World Hot Air Balloon Championship 2028. The host is thrilled to invite all delegates, subcommittee and working group members, as well as observers. Rooms are limited but expected to accommodate approximately the same number of participants as in most previous CIA Plenary meetings.

The host will generously cover accommodation, local transportation from arrival in AlUla, and social events (see below for more details). We thank the host as well as all partners and sponsors to make this plenary in AlUla possible.

e-Meetings

for Subcommittee and Working groups

In the past years we have given all subcommittees and working groups the opportunity to hold one or more working sessions online prior to the plenary week.

These online e-meetings are NOT intended to replace the meetings scheduled the 2 days before the plenary, but they are additional sessions to prepare and start the work in the subcommittees or working groups. The weeks up to the plenary can then be used to do some homework and prepare for shorter and more efficient on-site meetings just before the plenary.

REGISTRATION AND LINK DISTRIBUTION

To attend the online meetings, you must register using the registration link below before the day before the date of the meeting you want to attend. This registration is only for the online meetings, not the face-to-face meetings nor the plenary in February 2026.

Link to the registration form

You will receive a link to the zoom meeting the day before the meeting is held.

Once you received the link, do not share the link with others. For reasons of security the Zoom session login details must not be communicated, distributed or published in any way at any time, especially via social media. This is essential to prevent unauthorised persons from joining and potentially disrupting the session. If this does occur the chairpersons will abandon the session immediately and circulate fresh details to people who have registered to initiate a new session.

Schedule of e-Meetings

Dates might change if the commission wishes to meet at another moment and some commissions decided not to have an online meeting.
Updates will be in the registration link and will be sent to people who registered for that meeting.

68th Coupe Aéronautique Gordon Bennett 2025

The Coupe Aéronautique Gordon Bennett was hosted in Metz, France this year. The 68th edition of the race began on Friday 5 September, with take-off from Metz, France. After three challenging nights in the air, Frieden and Witprächtiger landed on the banks of the Danube in Romania, having flown the furthest distance from the launch site. Their winning flight covered 1,359.09 km in 2 days, 19 hours and 30 minutes.

Congratulations to

1. Frieden / Witprächtiger (SUI)
2. Munz / Schlegel (GER)
3. Decellières / Havret (FRA)

Behind the scenes – by Nils Boelmann

Since 2017, the Coupe Aéronautique Gordon Bennett has featured its own dedicated media production under the name Gordon Bennett TV. What began as a spontaneous phone recording has developed into a full-scale TV production and an integral part of the event. Each edition offers extensive live coverage of the world's oldest gas balloon race, combining livestreams, interviews and innovative camera perspectives. The aim is to share the fascination of gas ballooning with a wider audience and to present the sport in an engaging and accessible way. Beyond the competition, the broadcasts convey the atmosphere at the launch site, the teamwork behind the scenes and the challenges of long-distance flights, strengthening the community and raising awareness for this unique discipline in international aviation.

Members and partners

Marc André – Producer – (SUI)

As producer, Marc André coordinates all aspects of Gordon Bennett TV. From planning to execution, he ensures that the live coverage runs smoothly and that all elements come together into one coherent broadcast. His organizational skills are the backbone of the production.

Regan Tetlow – MC Airsport Presenter (UK)

Known across the airsports community, Regan Tetlow brings energy and expertise to the broadcast as presenter. With his live commentary and interviews, he creates the connection between the audience and the unique world of gas ballooning.

René Bühlmann – Technician (SUI)

René Bühlmann contributes behind the scenes with valuable production support. His role is essential to the technical setup and to ensuring that the coverage delivers reliable, high-quality results year after year.

Florian Michel – Editor (GER)

As director, Florian Michel manages the creative flow of the broadcast. From switching cameras to guiding the on-air moments, he ensures that the story of the race is told clearly and engagingly for viewers worldwide.

Christian Michel – Backend Support / YB-Tracking (GER)

Christian manages the race trackers, including preparation, distribution, and monitoring during flight. His work ensures that every balloon remains visible on the live tracking system. By maintaining reliable data flow, he provides the technical foundation for accurate and engaging race coverage.

Lars Stockmann-Olsen - Cameraman (GER)

As cameraman, Lars Stockmann-Olsen captures the key moments on site. In addition, he is responsible for editing content in cooperation with QuattroMedia, ensuring that highlights are efficiently prepared and distributed across media channels.

Nils Boelmann / (ehem. Ronald Kraffert) - Researcher (GER)

Responsible for background information and live data, Nils Boelmann prepares the content that underpins the commentary. By supplying facts, figures, and updates in real time, he helps the presenters keep the audience informed throughout the race.

Gordon Bennett TV is produced by a small and passionate team of volunteers from Switzerland, the United Kingdom and Germany. Together they contribute expertise in presenting, producing, directing, camera work, research and technical operations, united by a shared enthusiasm for ballooning. Although the production takes place only once a year and is organised entirely on a voluntary basis, it has achieved a level of professionalism comparable to established sports broadcasts. Each member brings valuable experience from their professional background, combining their skills on site to create a seamless live production. Preparations begin with coordination and pre-interviews in the weeks leading up to the event, but the real intensity starts once the race is underway. From that moment, the team works in full concentration to capture the beauty, drama and unpredictability of the competition as it unfolds in real time.

In cooperation with Quattro Media, Gordon Bennett TV ensures professional editing and worldwide distribution of selected content, extending the reach far beyond the ballooning community. What drives this achievement is not commercial interest but dedication and passion.

Media, Outreach & Technology

Over the years, Gordon Bennett TV has become a key element of the Coupe Aéronautique Gordon Bennett's international presence. What began as a small initiative has grown into a professional, multi-platform media production that connects pilots, crews and audiences worldwide. The broadcasts combine live transmissions, social media updates and editorial highlights, turning each race into a shared global experience. At the heart of the operation is a mobile production setup rebuilt from scratch for every edition. The workflow includes a studio for interviews and commentary, coverage of the Opening Ceremony, a full relocation to the launch field for the live transmission of the take-off and a swift return to the studio for continuous updates. Each transition demands precise coordination as equipment, crew and data connections must perform flawlessly under dynamic conditions. Professional lighting, graphics, live switching and drone footage together create the distinctive visual signature of Gordon Bennett TV. A major step forward has been the introduction of live connections from the balloon baskets, made possible through Starlink technology. This provides real-time insights from the pilots' perspective and allows the team to adapt the program while on air, capturing spontaneous and captivating moments as they happen.

The 2025 edition reached a global audience with more than 2,100 TV airings on 217 channels, over 61 hours of airtime and coverage on 35 international platforms including ZDF, ORF, ABC, MSN and Yahoo. The highlight show aired on FAST channels such as Rakuten and SportWorld, reaching more than 200 million households. Short clips on 26,000 public screens in Germany, Switzerland and Austria generated around 288 million contacts. Across digital platforms, Gordon Bennett TV recorded over one million views and nearly 30,000 interactions, while the live tracking website reached 68,000 unique visitors and more than 11,000 app downloads during the event. Today the participating teams actively provide high-quality footage, enriching the broadcast with authentic stories from the field. The show is carefully planned yet flexible enough to evolve in real time. During the latest edition, the production team established live contact with the Swiss team during their landing, integrating a basket feed on the spot while new videos arrived and were seamlessly added to the program.

Delivering this level of responsiveness and storytelling requires outstanding teamwork, technical precision and creative dedication. Together these elements have turned Gordon Bennett TV into a bridge between the pilots in the sky, the teams on the ground and audiences around the world. Through its coverage, Gordon Bennett TV continues to share the fascination, camaraderie and spirit of gas ballooning with the global aviation community.

23rd FAI European Hot Air Balloon Championship

Wieselburg – Austria

Speaking at the Award Ceremony which closed the event, 43-year-old Zeberli commented on the “perfect weather conditions” that the pilots had enjoyed during the championship event, and said “I feel very proud of my team, we had a wonderful week... I can't put it in words, I feel very emotional to have the trophy at home once again.”

The youngest participants' experience – by Maarten Deleersnijder

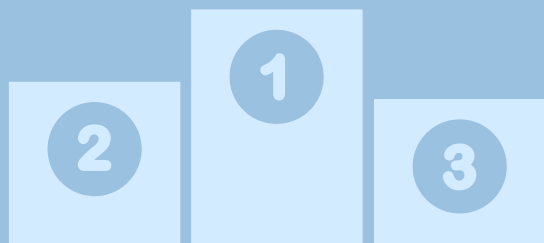

Competing at the European Championship in Wieselburg, Austria, was truly an unforgettable experience. As the youngest participant in the field, I am proud to have finished 5th, securing a place in the top 10 among the very best pilots in Europe.

The region around Wieselburg was stunning, with its beautiful landscapes – and also quite challenging due to the tricky and unpredictable winds. These conditions made every flight both demanding and exciting, while also testing our ability to adapt quickly in the air. Another decisive factor throughout the competition was fuel management. Some of the flights lasted close to three hours, which required careful planning to make it through the tasks efficiently.

I want to congratulate all the pilots on their performances, and especially Stefan Zeberli on winning his 6th European title – an incredible achievement! A big thank you as well to the organizers for the excellent setup of the event, and in particular to Martin Wegner as event director and his team for their outstanding work. Their efforts made this championship run smoothly and at the highest standard. It was a privilege to be part of this championship, and I look forward to what's next.

Congratulations to

The FAI World Air Games is the premier, international, multi-discipline air sports event conducted under FAI rules but is included in the table for completeness.

This event calendar does not show CIA Sporting Events. The objectives of Sporting Events include: encouraging participation in international events in which pilots of all abilities can take part and facilitating fair "entry level" competition using simplified rules that apply equally to all CIA Sporting Events and participants.

Further information can be found in Section 1 of the Sporting Code particularly Section 5 and Annex - <https://www.fai.org/cia-documents>

CIA Scholarships for Balloon Youth camps

For 2026, the FAI Ballooning Commission (CIA) will continue support of CIA Balloon Youth Camps (BYC). Balloon Youth Camps are an important part of the future of ballooning.

From past camps, an impressive number of pilots and P.U.T. have been camp attendees.

The CIA budget for BYC support is a total of CHF4000 with the funds to be distributed as follows:

1. Annual CIA Budget of CHF4000 to be shared across approved BYC applicants with a maximum payment of CHF1000 per country.
2. Each country is only eligible for one payment. Multiple camps held in any one country do not increase funds available for a particular country.
3. The application for CIA BYC Scholarship and the CIA BYC Guidelines, can be found on the CIA documents page:
<https://fai.org/cia-documents> then scroll down to Balloon Youth Camp.

If you have any questions, please contact

CIA Hall of Fame

read more about the inductees

The Hall of Fame recognizes those who have made significant contributions to Aerostation, including those who have excelled in business, history, design and engineering, in addition to those better known for their contributions in flying balloons or airships of any category, in competition or records.

Inductees are elected into the CIA International Hall of Fame by the Selection Committee. Each year they will normally elect one living and one posthumous inductee from the list of nominated candidates.

In order to get inducted into the Hall of Fame someone needs to be accepted into the pool of nominees first. The nomination for the pool and the nomination for the induction has to come from the NAC.

Every year the Albuquerque Balloon Museum hosts an induction ceremony for that years' nominees. The inductees or family members are invited to come join this special ceremony where we show our gratitude for everything they have done for our sport.

Nominations shall be made by NAC's to FAI office, so the trick is to make the NAC's aware of possible candidates.

We would like to encourage all balloon federations and balloon clubs to make use of this way of recognizing the hard working volunteers in our community. Think of people you know who are giving a contribution to the sport and how you can award them. Make your proposals to your national FAI members.

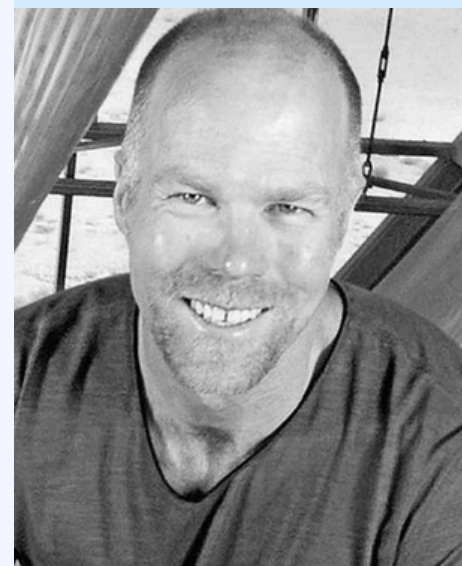

If you know someone you believe should be rewarded for their time and efforts but don't know what award to nominate them for. Please reach out to the CIA Bureau to see how we can support you.

FAI Cloud

In 2024, the CIA approved a motion “to migrate all relevant documents to the FAI cloud by May 1st, 2024, and to work exclusively with this new document storage from that date onward.”

To support this transition, we have purchased 50 Mountain Duck licenses, allowing easy synchronization with the FAI cloud—similar to how Dropbox works.

The purpose of using the FAI cloud is to ensure long-term preservation of all working documents and to guarantee that access remains intact in case of leadership or membership changes within your WG/SC.

However, several working groups still have few or no files stored in the cloud. We kindly remind all groups to complete the upload of all relevant documents by the end of this year. The “CIA Cloud Guidelines” document provides detailed instructions and best practices for using the FAI cloud.

If you need assistance accessing the cloud, please contact your WG/SC Chair.

Chairs who have not yet received their credentials may contact Marc André at marc.andre@netline.ch.

If you would like to use Mountain Duck and have not yet requested a license, please complete the form here.

Important: Our licenses cover only Mountain Duck version 4.x. Please ensure you download the latest 4.x release (not version 5.x). Download and changelog: <https://mountainduck.io/changelog/>

Thank you for your cooperation and for helping ensure a smooth transition to our centralized document storage.
